

Working English

A project to support refugees into work

“Working English” is a new project to support refugees through the job market, improving their English and making them job ready. There will be an eight-week course on employability and English language, developing their language skills and giving them the tools to navigate the job market.

Learners who need more support will be partnered with a volunteer mentor who will further support them with their English and the job market.

A volunteer led crèche facility will also be available.

Working English

A project to support refugees into work

“Working English” is a new project to support refugees through the job market, improving their English and making them job ready. There will be an eight-week course on employability and English language, developing their language skills and giving them the tools to navigate the job market.

Learners who need more support will be partnered with a volunteer mentor who will further support them with their English and the job market.

A volunteer led crèche facility will also be available.

For more information or to refer a learner, contact:

Ruth Gray
Refugee Action
40a Piccadilly
Bradford
BD1 3NN
01274 924982

RuthG@refugee-action.org.uk

For more information or to refer a learner, contact:

Ruth Gray
Refugee Action
40a Piccadilly
Bradford
BD1 3NN
01274 924982

RuthG@refugee-action.org.uk