

10 DAYS OF ACTION IN SOLIDARITY WITH REFUGEES AND ASYLUM SEEKERS.

To whom it may concern,

Leeds University Union (LUU) would like to invite you to the launch event of our campaign 'Existence is Enough: 10 Days of Action in Solidarity with Refugees and Asylum Seekers'. This campaign aims to get students to re-think the idea that refugees have to 'contribute' to be a valued member of society and to show solidarity as a University with the lived experiences of Refugees and Asylum Seekers.

Over the course of ten days (5th-15th of March) we will be inviting students, staff and members of the Leeds community to engage with activities and events designed to raise awareness of the issues facing refugees and foster a culture on campus which is both proactive and inclusive.

This comes at a time when the University of Leeds is about to launch new 'Sanctuary Scholarships', which will offer Asylum Seekers a fee waiver and maintenance grants to enable access to Higher Education with an aim for students to start this September.

We would be delighted if you could join us to meet like-minded people from the student body, the University and organisations in the city of Leeds, hear the story of a refugee currently studying here and learn more about what we have planned for the campaign.

Where: Function, Leeds University Union (directions available from Union foyer).

When: Monday, 5th of March, 18:00 - 20:00 pm.

Food and refreshments will be provided, feel free to invite others but please let us know.

Yours Sincerely,

The LUU Student Exec
