PLASTER CASTING WORKSHOPS
WITH EVA MILEUSNIC

To celebrate Refugee Week we are offering half-day plaster casting workshops where participants will learn the basics of casting and make a plaster piece that will contribute to a large-scale art installation celebrating diversity.

PLASTER CASTING WORKSHOPS

Participants will cast a pair of stylised 'feet' using rubber moulds that have sections of the world map on the soles, allowing people to choose an area that has significance to them. Over 1,000 pairs of plaster 'feet' will be exhibited in a large-scale installation symbolic of the multicultural city of Leeds, this will be shown at Left Bank Leeds in January 2019.

PARTNER ORGANISATIONS

We are looking for organisations to work with on the delivery of these free plaster casting workshops during Refugee Week (18-22 June). The artist Eva Mileusnic will facilitate the workshops, all equipment and materials will be provided and workshops can be held at Left Bank Leeds or in your own venue.

Venues will need to provide power, heating, easy access to a sink, sufficient space for up to 20 participants to work, tables, chairs/stools, an area to leave finished work to dry and a bin for excess plaster waste.

BOOKING

To book a group of up to 20 people to attend a workshop please email leigh@leftbankleeds.org.uk with your preferred time and date. Please also state if you would like the workshop run at Left Bank Leeds or in your own venue.

Please book by 21 May as any workshops not taken by organisations will be made available to the public.

DATES FOR REFUGEE WEEK WORKSHOPS

These workshops are part of a larger project celebrating the diversity of communities across Leeds. It has been commissioned by the Donut Group, a network of arts venues operating in neighbourhoods outside Leeds city centre. This project has been made possible with thanks to funding from Leeds Inspired.
