

What's happening to

Community Based Mental Health Services?

Community based mental health services are working together to improve the network of support services for local people.

Have Your Say

Currently all services work separately to each other which can make it hard to switch between services.

People might not know how to access services
The plan is to provide Community Mental Health services that are easy for people to access, easy to move between services, easy for people to give feedback and that are culturally sensitive

It doesn't matter if you haven't previously used mental health services, we would still like to receive your comments

Your opinion and experiences are important so changes can be made to include them.

Refugee & Asylum Seeker Support

This involves two organisations named Solace and PAFRAS who support Refugees and Asylum Seekers with mental health

The CCG are proposing to:

Link this service more closely with local NHS, Leeds City Council and Third Sector organisations

Merge PAFRAS & Solace into a single service

Work with migrant communities to identify gaps in support and raise awareness
